

Please read carefully about the Thesis style:

<http://ibc.ac.th/faqing/essayguide>

Common Abbreviation

op. cit. — the work cited

ibid. — the same place

anon.— anonymous

p. – page number; pp. page numbers

c. or ca.—circa (about; used only with dates)

cf—compare or confer

ch., chaps.—chapter, chapters

col., cols—column, columns

e.g.—exempli gratia (for example)

f., ff.—following page, following pages

fac.—facsimile

Footnotes

For a book:

Given_name Family name, Title of the Book (City: Publisher, year), p. 15.

Winston King, Theravāda Meditation: The Buddhist Transformation of Yoga (Delhi: Motilal Banarsidass, 1992), p. 15.

Second time: King, p. 25.

If you quote more than one works from Winston King, than second time: King, Theravāda, p. 25.

For an article:

Winston King, “Nāgārjuna is not a Mahāyānist” Buddhist Magazine 21 (October 1999) pp. 21-23.

For Internet:

Chisho Mamoru Namai, “On Mantranaya.” <<http://www.padma.org/001/lab/onmantranaya.htm>> Web, 14 Sept. 2010.

Bibliography

Family name, Given name. Title of the Book. City: Publisher, Year.

King, Winston. Theravāda Meditation: The Buddhist Transformation of Yoga. Delhi: Motilal Banarsidass, 1992.

Article:

King, Winston. “On Nibbana” Buddhist Magazine, 21 (October 1951), pp. 21-23.

Chisho Mamoru Namai, “On Mantranaya.” <<http://www.padma.org/001/lab/onmantranaya.htm>>